Mal Peters and family - one of 107.

John Pes and family - one of 107.

Mal's and John's families are just two of The 107 that the Howard Government is prosecuting for fines of up to $28,600 and possible loss of homes, family assets or even jail. Mal and John are just two of the 400 rail project workers who acted in defence of their sacked shop steward.

'The UITBB Secretariat, representing millions of construction workers around the globe, firmly condemns the outrageous decision by the Howard Government to personally prosecute 107 building workers and fine them up to $28,000 for taking industrial action after a delegate was sacked. Such persecution of workers and their legitimate representatives finds its equal only in the darkest periods of human history and reminds of the worst practices taken by governments against workers.'
