No to Howard's war budget!

Medicare not missiles! Books not bombs!

We, the undersigned are outraged at the Liberals' budget, which means more money for the military at the expense of Medicare and public education.

While the average worker gets a tax cut worth a sandwich a week – and people on pensions not even that – big business gets further tax breaks worth $200 million a year.

We welcome the decision by the Labor Party and the Greens to block the budget attacks on Medicare and university education. We call on them to also block the increases in military expenditure.
